

LONG PLOTTING BEFORE BANKER WAS KIDNAPED

State Presents Its Case
Against Abductors
Of August Luer

Edwardsville, Ill., Sept. 18.—(AP)—Beginning the case against five men and a woman charged with kidnaping August Luer, wealthy Alton, Ill. banker, the state today asserted months of plotting preceded the actual abduction.

State's Attorney L. M. Geers fired the first broadside by which the prosecution seeks to send the defendant to the electric chair by relating in Circuit court a dramatic story of the plotting and execution of the kidnaping. The trial started last Monday but the full week was needed in the selection of a jury.

In his opening statement Prosecutor Geers related that months before the abduction of the aged and ailing 77-year-old banker, Percy Michael Fitzgerald, St. Louis ex-convict; Randal Norvell, a professional bondsman, and "Irish" O'Malley, a St. Louis hoodlum, began plotting an abduction.

Fitzgerald and Norvell are among the defendants. O'Malley and Gracie Adams, another alleged participant in the plot are fugitives. Other defendants are Charles and Lillian Chesson of East Alton, Ill.; Mike Musiala and Christ Nicola Gitchco.

One of First Steps
"As one of the first steps" the prosecutor said in outlining the reported plot, "they (Norvell and O'Malley) went out to the farm near Eagle Park of Mike Musiala. They told him they planned to hide a kidnap victim on Musiala's place but they were not satisfied with the cellar that Mike showed them. So Mike promised to fix up another place."

The prosecutor then explained how it is alleged the other members of the gang were drawn into the plot. While scheming against another man they drove past the Luer home in Alton, he said.

Then, he asserted, Mrs. Chesson pointed to the house and said suddenly: "There's the best bet in Alton. Why didn't I think of him before."

Balked by Guests
Before the successful kidnaping last July 10, the gang attempted several times to seize the banker, the prosecutor declared. They found guests at the home each time and did not act, he continued.

The actual kidnaping was charged to Miss Adams, O'Malley and Fitzgerald. They hustled the banker from his home and spirited him away in a motor car driven by Norvell.

As neighbors ran to the Luer home, attracted by Mrs. Luer's screams, Luer, the prosecutor continued, was taken to Norvell's house in Nemo, Ill., transferred to another car, and taken to Gitchco's home in Granite City.

Were Merciless
"We shall show that the kidnapers manhandled their elderly victim without mercy," Geers continued. "When they drove away from his home, Luer began to cry out for his son Carl. One of the kidnapers said 'shut up or we'll bust your skull' and brandished a heavy pistol at him. Luer continued to cry out and one of the men in the car with him said, 'let's chloroform him.' Luer pleaded with them not to do that, and finally was silent."

In Gitchco's building, the State's Attorney continued, Fitzgerald was left to guard the Alton man, who had been blindfolded. But during the first hour of Luer's captivity a visitor went to the abandoned building, observing a light there. Fitzgerald, he said, held the visitor at the point of a revolver and called Norvell, who promptly had Luer removed to the Musiala place.

There in the cellar under the tool shed, he was held five days and five nights while the kidnapers made several unsuccessful efforts to collect $50,000 ransom from him. He was released when the negotiations failed.

Mrs. Helen Luer, aged wife of the kidnap victim, calmly told the jury how on the night of July 10, and hustled him away after knocking her down.

She identified Percy Michael Fitzgerald, one of six defendants on trial in the case, as the kidnaper who struck her twice, throwing her down so severely that she fell against a mantel and suffered a deep scalp wound.

Story of Kidnaping
In a German accent the 77-year-old Alton resident told how she and Luer were playing solitaire when they heard a car drive up.

"I said to myself, 'Oh, my, now we got company,'" she related. A man and a woman came to the front door and the woman asked to use the telephone. She asked them in, she related and the man went into the living room.

"Then all of a sudden there was fighting," Mrs. Luer went on. "The man in the sitting room grabbed Mr. Luer. The woman ran in and helped him. A man came running in the front door and pushed me into the parlor across the hall. I got up and ran at him and he knocked me down. I cut my head on the mantel."

"They took Mr. Luer out of the house. He was wearing only his shirt, pants and house slippers. He kept screaming for help. It was pitiful."

Asked if she saw any of the kidnapers in court, she pointed at

TO USE FEVER- MAKER ON OAK PARK'S SLEEPER

New Procedure To Be Employed To End
Long Slumber

Chicago, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Scientists today had hopes of breaking Miss Patricia Maguire's long sleep by employing artificial fever.

They planned to begin use tomorrow of a pyrexator machine to induce fever in the belief that they may be able to awaken the "sleeping beauty" of Oak Park, who has been asleep since February 15, 1932.

A special electric line is to be run from a public service company's wires to operate the machine, which is to be operated by specialists under the direction of Dr. Eugene F. Traut.

Since she began her long sleep other methods, including blood transfusions, have been resorted to in a futile effort to arouse her.

EPIDEMIC DECLINES

St. Louis, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The encephalitis epidemic continued to decline today with only three deaths and thirteen new cases reported since yesterday morning.

The death total today was 153, and the total number of cases 859, indicating, health officials said, that the malady is spreading much less rapidly than in August and earlier this month.

SEVEN INJURED IN AUTO CRASH SUNDAY EVENING

All Are Now Patients In
Compton Hospital
As A Result

Seven persons, occupants of two automobiles, which crashed head on at the curve one mile north of Compton on state highway route 70, last night about 9 o'clock are patients in the Compton hospital at Compton where they will probably remain for several days.

The injured consist of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shellhorn and five children of Cherry, Ill.; Charles Allen of Roselle and Wells Andrews of Kewanee, brother of Mayor James H. Andrews of Chicago. The latter suffered concussion of the brain and was unconscious until this morning. All were badly cut and bruised and both cars were completely demolished.

Wells Andrews and Charles Allen were driving north, enroute from Geneseo to Elgin, where the former is employed at the state institution. Mr. and Mrs. Shellhorn and children were driving south toward Compton and the cars crashed head on at the curve. Three of the Shellhorn children were badly cut and bruised and Mr. Shellhorn was crushed in the chest and cut about the head. Mrs. Shellhorn was cut about the throat by pieces of broken glass and sustained the loss of several teeth. Passing motorists picked up the injured persons and rushed them to the hospital where their injuries were dressed and where they will be detained for several days. The wrecked machines were also hauled to Compton.

Former Dry Agent Alleged Kidnap

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 18.—(AP)—Clyde Culbertson of Brimfield, Ill., former Denver, Colo. prohibition investigator, was arrested by Peoria county police Sunday night for Denver authorities, who claimed they have information implicating him with the planned abduction of Adolph Coors, Jr., wealthy brewer and clubman of Denver.

Culbertson waived extradition and was expected to be returned there Tuesday. He also is wanted in Denver on a car theft charge, police said.

Three Met Fatal Injuries In Auto Crash Near Peoria

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 18.—(AP)—Three persons died early today of injuries received Sunday night in an automobile collision on Route No. 29, five miles north of here. Four other persons were injured, one probably fatally. The dead are Miss Mary Mullins, 29, Ray Heller, 22, and Benjamin Hammer, 29, all residents of Peoria.

Dixon Men Badly Cut, Bruised In Auto Mishap On Lowell Park Road Sunday Afternoon; One In Hospital

Elmer Bain, J. L. Page and Frank Bovey of this city were badly cut and bruised in an unusual automobile accident on the Lowell park road Sunday afternoon about 4:30 when the car in which they were riding was practically demolished when it skidded in loose gravel and turned over about two miles east of the Lowell park entrance. Bain was driving his Ford coach and Bovey and Page were riding in the rear seat.

Coming toward Dixon and at the crest of a long hill, another car going in the opposite direction loomed ahead and both drivers suddenly turned out to avoid a head-on crash. The west-bound car skidded in the loose gravel and turned over on its side. Bain suffered a fracture of the right arm and concussion of the brain, also being painfully bruised about the body and cut about the

GUARD AGAINST KIDNAP GANG'S HEAD ESCAPING

Machine Gunners Are On Duty At Trial Of
Harvey Bailey

Oklahoma City, Sept. 18.—(AP)—A guard or a machine gun blocked every avenue of escape or delivery as Harvey Bailey, slippery desperado, was called to trial today with 11 others accused of the $200,000 kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel.

With the possibility accomplices of the outlaw might attempt a rescue, Bailey and Albert L. Bates, accused actual kidnaper of "the oil millionaire," were taken from the county jail under heavy guard last night. The trip was made over almost deserted streets to the Federal building where the pair was lodged in isolated cells on the eighth floor.

Unverified rumors of a gathering of the underworld confederates of Bailey reached the ears of Sheriff Stanley Rogers before the transfer of the prisoners.

Hands, Feet Shackled
The courtroom in which the trial will be held is one floor above the cells where Bailey and Bates are shackled hand and foot.

Federal agents were confident there was no chance for delivery or for a repitition of Bailey's Labor Day escape from the jail at Dallas. Bailey and Bates will stay in the lower until their trial is over, although Mr. and Mrs. Shannon and son, Armon, who operated the Paradise, Tex. farm where Urschel was hidden last July for nine days, will be taken back and forth between the courtroom and the county prison, six blocks away.

Bailey is branded by prosecutors as the "master mind" of the kidnaping.

Seven others on trial, all from Minneapolis and St. Paul, were arrested as recipients of part of the ransom money.

KEESHIN MOTOR COMPANY SAYS IT'S NECESSARY

Presents Claim For Certificate From Commerce Body

Chicago, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Attorney Luther M. Walter told the Illinois Commerce Commission today the extent of the operations of the Keeshin Motor Company, operator of motor trucks in Illinois, demanded that the company be granted a certificate of convenience and necessity.

Walter said that the company had operated for 21 years, employed 220 persons, and operated 100 units in Chicago, DeKalb, Dixon, Sterling, Rock Island, Moline, Freeport, Rockford, Ottawa and other Illinois towns. He said there was an increasing demand for the company's services.

Attorney Ralph Himmelhoch, representing the Railway Express Agency, argued that the trucks paid insufficient taxes for the use of state highways. Railroads also have opposed the truck line's petition.

The case, involving the right of the commission to bar motor trucks from hauling freight as a common carrier, has been under consideration for three years.

Louis Heid Died At Co. Infirmary

Louis Heid passed away Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock at the Lee County Home near Eldena where he had been taken from his home in Marion township. He was a native of Germany and was about 77 years of age, and was unmarried. The remains were taken to the Vaughan mortuary at Amboy where funeral services will be conducted Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 from the Catholic church at Walton with interment in Oakwood cemetery, this city. The deceased was a husband of the late Jacob and John Heid, both of Dixon, who preceded him in death.

HOLDS PATENT VOID

Detroit, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Federal Judge Arthur Tuttle today held void the Shurtleiff patent owned by the Herman Nelson Corporation of Moline, Ill., which sued the American Buggy Corporation of Detroit for infringement. The patent involves the use of a heating unit.

As Rival Cuban Parties Prepare For Issue

Field pieces and machine guns are trained on the National Hotel in Havana, where these three captains and two majors of the Cuban army, with their guns handy, are shown preparing their own food. The officers are part of a group of between 300 and 500 who have barricaded themselves in the hotel and are demanding restoration of the De Cespedes government. Government forces have surrounded the hotel and permit no one to leave or enter it.

HORSE SHOW IS GREAT SUCCESS IN ALL DETAILS

First Show Of The Dixon Saddle Club Pleased Hundreds

The Dixon Saddle Club's first annual horse show at the high school athletic field Saturday and Sunday was greeted with ideal weather which brought forth a fine field of entries for all events, and provided a new and novel program of entertainment for the many hundred visitors who attended on both days. Owners of horses in this locality exhibited fine sportsmanship in entering their mounts in competition for ribbons which were given the prize winners in the different classes.

The attendance at the meeting Sunday afternoon far exceeded the expectations of the sponsors and assured the Saddle Club officers that the public of Dixon and vicinity thoroughly enjoyed the program. The high school athletic field accommodated the largest crowd on Sunday afternoon that has ever been assembled in the park. The grand stand was filled and every available bit of parking space was taken. Many chose to watch the events from vantage points outside the park.

Music During Show

The program Sunday afternoon opened with a selection by the band and this was followed by three beautiful numbers by the Troubadette ladies chorus under the direction of Mrs. E. M. Good. A clown band under the direction of John E. Moyer furnished no small amount of enjoyment.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

LICENSED TO WED

A marriage license has been issued by County Clerk Fred G. Dimick to Harvey W. Underhill and Miss Bernice A. Madden, both of Dixon.

JUDGE SHEEHAN PRESIDES

Judge Frank T. Sheehan of Galena arrived in Dixon this morning to take up his duties in the Lee county Circuit Court, the September term opening today. Judge Harry Edwards is presiding at Oregon. The grand jury for the September term of the Circuit Court reported this afternoon at 1:30 to begin their deliberations, which is expected to require several days. Bert Hoyle of Palmyra was named foreman of the grand jury.

RUNS FUEL BUSINESS

Mrs. Eleanor Curtin has disposed of her ready-to-wear store at Kewanee, Ill., and has taken over the J. P. McIntyre Coal Co., and now has the entire management of the same. Mrs. Curtin is pleased to keep her father's customers and will accord them the same efficient service and the same courtesy, and at the same time she will welcome all new patrons.

BARBER'S ANNIVERSARY

Former Supervisor Harry O. Wheeler, dean of Dixon barbers, this morning recalled that it was fifty years ago today that he and John Heft opened a shop in a small building back of the store room now occupied by Phil N. Marks & Sons clothing store at 85 Galea avenue, to learn the barber trade. Their shop was between Morris & Son's grocery and "Yankee" Dailey's saloon. Mr. Wheeler has followed the barbering business continuously since that day.

IN POLICE COURT

Elias Jones was assessed a fine of $5 and costs by Justice J. O. Shaulis in police court on an intoxication charge. In default of which he was remanded to the county jail. Silas Heng was unable to pay a fine of $5 and costs, following his arrest on charge of being intoxicated and disorderly, and was also sent to the county jail. Epp Madden was arrested on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Harvey Underhill and the hearing was continued for one week, Madden furnishing bonds.

Lawrence Reed of Polo taken in custody late Saturday night by Sheriff Fred Richardson, was assessed a fine of $3 and costs on an intoxication charge when arraigned before Police Magistrate A. E. Simonson yesterday, which was paid.

Earl O'Neill, a transient who became abusive Saturday night when Patrolman Harry Jones informed him that "mooning" was not permitted in Dixon, was fined $5 and costs on a vagrancy charge when arraigned before Justice Shaulis. O'Neill was taken to the county jail and this morning joined the city's working crew.

Sen. James Davis' Trial Called Today

New York, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The second trial of United States Senator James J. Davis on federal bribery charges began today before Judge Johnson Hayes of North Carolina.

Co-defendant with Davis was Theodore G. Miller, head of the propagation department of the Lovell Order of Moose, of which Davis is Director General.

Raymond Walsh, another defendant, was granted a severance on motion of Louis Mead Treadwell, Assistant United States Attorney. A fourth defendant, Bernard C. McGuire, pleaded guilty sometime ago.

Davis was alone in the first trial, which began a year ago and ended in a mistrial two weeks later.

UTILITIES GET RESPITE FROM ILL. SALES TAX

Chicago Judge Gives Them Temporary Injunction Today

Chicago, Sept. 18.—(AP)—A temporary respite from payment of the two per cent Illinois occupational (sales) tax was granted today to 21 public utility companies.

Judge Harry M. Fisher issued a temporary injunction restraining the state from collecting the tax from the utilities.

He ordered the companies to post bond equal to the taxes they would pay if the tax law is finally upheld.

Lawyers for the companies contended the utilities could not increase prices to absorb the tax, as could other business firms, and also that electricity, gas and water services were not tangible commodities and not within the meaning of the law.

The utilities companies cannot increase prices without permission from the Illinois Commerce Commission.

STRIKE NEWS OF DAY FROM SOME AREAS BRIGHTER

Milk Strikers Change
Tactics: Pickets
Off Highways

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Midwestern milk producers called off their strike today in favor of a tactical change, but in the east and in Pennsylvania's coal fields striking workers added new notes of restlessness to the industrial scene.

As a "change of tactics" strike leaders withdrew pickets in the Chicago milk shed and allowed shipments to proceed unobstructed while they sought to achieve a price of $2.50 per hundredweight by selling to dairies not affiliated with the Pure Milk Association.

A note of conciliation encouraged miners in the Pennsylvania coal fields. The president of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, traditional union foe, intimated it might recede from its non-union stand and subscribe to the bituminous code.

Mines Stay Closed
Mines remained closed, however, and 30,000 miners continued their "holidays" in protest against delay in signing the code.

Some 7,000 workers in Brockton, Mass., shoe factories walked out after rejecting a suggestion by the National Labor Board to continue work pending complete settlement of a labor dispute.

Philadelphia's labor situation was further complicated and the city's food supply threatened by a strike of 3,000 truck drivers for higher pay. Seven thousand truck owners decided to suspend operation in the interest of safety.

New Jersey silk mills, scheduled to reopen today, continued to stand idle in the face of an army of picketing silk workers. There was no hour cessation of business tomorrow to protest against workers violence and the growing number of strikes.

Boycotts against American firms were invoked at Manzanillo, where a general walkout was set for today. Communists in Santiago threatened to seize American mills and banks and all American women were taken for safety to Hente, across the bay from Santiago.

About "Down With Welles"
American-owned manganese mines at Cristo remained a storm center. In Havana 8,000 persons paraded, shouting "down with Sumner Welles," American Ambassador, and "Down with American imperialism." Unrest grew in a number of other places.

Meanwhile there were reports that a compromise could be effected between President Ramon Grau San Martin and the opposition factions which seek his retirement—the Nationalists of Colonel Carlos Mendieta, the followers of former President Mario G. Menocal, the ABC and OCCR secret societies, and others.

In protracted meetings they failed to get the executive's acceptance to any of three plans ordered for the solution of political turmoil, and it was understood in high political circles that their newest plan reiterated demands that the president make way for a "truly national" government.

Amboy Woman Was Probably Fatally Burned By Explosion Of Kerosene Stove At Her Home Early This Morn

early morning hour. Both are being cared for at the Amboy public hospital.

Mr. Wylie is a member of the Amboy fire department and was an active member of the drum and bugle corps which was recently organized. According to reports, Mr. and Mrs. Wylie had returned home at a late hour last night and she was engaged in preparing a lunch over the kerosene stove in the kitchen, when it suddenly exploded, enveloping her in flames. Her husband rushed to her aid and sustained deep burns as he attempted to extinguish the flames. He was badly burned about the hands and face. The flames set fire to the house and the fire department was called out and extinguished the blaze, but not until the house was considerably damaged.

Mrs. Anna Swartz Died This Morning At Peoria Ave. Home

Mrs. Anna Swartz passed away this morning at 7 o'clock at her home, 310 Peoria avenue, her death resulting from a lingering illness. Funeral services will be conducted from her late home Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30 with interment in St. Patrick's cemetery near Amboy. The obituary will be published later.

Sterling Man Is Killed By A Fall

Anthony Behrens of Sterling, aged about 40, suffered a fatal fracture of the skull when he slipped and fell down the cellar steps at his home last Sunday afternoon. An inquest was set for this evening.

EASTERN STORM RAGING TOWARD COAST OF MAINE

Twelve Known To Have Lost Lives In Week-
End's Hurricane

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

A hurricane, runaway madcap from the tropics, sent gales raging toward Maine's coast today after wreaking death and destruction on other parts of the Atlantic seaboard.

Ten persons were known to be dead in North Carolina, where the storm struck its most vicious blow. Property damage there approached $3,000,000. Two persons were drowned in Pennsylvania.

Massachusetts suffered a buffetting yesterday. Wharves were wrecked, shipping disrupted, highways flooded. Steamboat service between Nantucket and the mainland was stopped.

New York and New Jersey escaped much of the storm's wrath, but historic Barnegat Light House, a Jersey institution for three-quarters of a century, faced possible destruction. The storm left only 20 inches of sand between the light and the raging waves. A plan was afoot to save it by a temporary barrier.

On the south shore of Nova Scotia fishermen hustled from their beds early today to save boats and gear as the gale struck.

In Mexico soldiers searched ruins for additional victims of another hurricane that struck the vicinity of Tampico and San Luis Potosi. The number of dead in those two cities was set at 45, with nearly 150 injured and 6,000 homeless.

NORTH CAROLINA'S TOLL

New Bern, N. C., Sept. 18.—(AP)—At least ten are dead, six are missing and property damage approaching three million dollars has been counted as the sacrifice the North Carolina coast paid to the tropical hurricane that shrieked across this section Friday night and Saturday.

A complete appraisal of the loss of life and property was not possible today due to the fact that many lines of communication still are disabled.

Sanitary conditions in portions of the area were described as "dangerous." Relief agencies moved hurriedly to provide necessities of life.

Medical detachments sought to force their way into the worst areas, loaded with anti-typhoid and other vaccines. In some sections practically all livestock was drowned. Pamlico, Currituck, and Tyrrell counties apparently were the hardest hit. Crops and livestock were almost completely swept away. Scores of families are destitute.

Mrs. Thomas O'Berry of Raleigh, State Relief Director, after a visit to Craven county creek section of Craven county, termed conditions "indescribable."

PASSED OUT TO SEA

Boston, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Week-end storms that left New England with washed out roads and damaged crops, today had passed out to sea and fair weather was reported.

F. D. R. Has A Cold: Stays In Mansion

Washington, Sept. 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt is suffering from a slight cold and remained in the Executive Mansion today away from his desk.

Lieutenant Com. Ross T. McIntire, U. S. N., called on him this morning and reported a very slight fever.

He advised Roosevelt to remain in the mansion for the day.

There is every expectation that the President will return to his desk tomorrow.

He cancelled most of his engagements for the day, but kept in readiness for signing of the bituminous coal code which H. E. Johnson, Industrial Administrator, said he would bring to the White House during the day.

Militia Still On Duty In Christian County After War

Taylorville, Ill., Sept. 18.—(AP)—A year ago three companies of National Guardsmen reached Taylorville to maintain order in the Christian county mine fields.

Approximately 2,000 soldiers have been on duty here during the year as detachments have been changed. The maximum strength was seven companies.

At present, one company is on duty to assist civil authorities in keeping peace between rival mine labor factions.

The price from 10 to 11 cents a quart.

E. L. Bost, Harvard, Ill., producer and leader of the strikers, in announcing the withdrawal of pickets from his wages, said it was a matter of a "change in tactics."

An agreement had been reached among followers of the strike movement, he said, to sell milk to dairies not affiliated with the Pure Milk Association at a flat price of $2.50 a hundred pounds. However, he said, farmers would only receive $1.50 a hundred pounds, the other dollar to go into a "defense fund."

Members of the Pure Milk Association are now receiving $1.75 a hundredweight and stand to be paid about $2.20 if the proposed price increase is approved by government officials.

MAINTENANCE OF
PRESS' FREEDOM
U. S. SAFEGUARD

Educator Hails Success Of Fight Of Publishers

New York, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Carl W. Ackerman, educator, hailed today what he termed the successful "fight of the profession of journalism for public recognition of the freedom of the press."

In his annual report, Ackerman, who is dean of the Columbia School of Journalism, said the one event of transcendent importance in journalism this year was the negotiations between NRA officials and publishers' representatives.

He expressed the opinion that "the only possibility of the United States escaping a dictatorship was inherent in the fight of the profession of journalism for public recognition of the freedom of the press."

He said the Washington conferences "through the NRA newspaper code, placed the present government on record as recognizing the freedom of the press."

Added to all these troubles was the problem of 500 army and navy officers barricaded and besieged in the National Hotel for a week. They insist that Grau San Martin step down in favor of Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, who in mid-August followed Gerardo Machado in the presidency.

Washington, Sept. 18.—(AP)—State Department officials today awaited a full report upon a conversation at Havana between Ambassador Welles and Provisional President Grau San Martin at which it was assumed here the possible course of the United States in Cuba had been discussed.

Secretary Hull told newspapermen today no word could be said about the question of recognizing the new Cuban government until detailed information had been received upon conversations held in Havana over the week end and still continuing.

He had received only a meagre report. Further word was desired, also, he added, upon the series of meetings between Grau San Martin and leaders of other political factions.

The condition in Cuba was painted by Consul reports received here today as yet grave.

Ernest Stevens To Face Trial Alone

Chicago, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Ernest J. Stevens must go to trial alone next Monday on charges of embezzling a million dollars from the defunct Illinois Life Insurance Company.

Judge Michael J. Feinberg today granted the state a severance of his case from that of his father, James W. Stevens, 80-year-old head of the family, that once controlled the Hotels Stevens and LaSalle and the life insurance company they founded.

The elder Stevens was stricken with paralysis last spring and may never go to trial. His physician, Dr. William T. Harsha, told the court today that Stevens had not yet recovered sufficiently to be arraigned.

Beier's Team Won From Nelson Last Night At Sterling

The Beier Loafers won over Nelson by a score of 4 to 3 in the soft ball tournament at Sterling, which brought the two teams together in the pairings last evening.

Beier of Nelson allowed but three hits but yielded five walks. Two of these walks were followed by home runs by Fane and Redebaugh. Clark allowed ten hits, five of them for extra bases but managed to keep them well scattered, and only three runs resulted. The victory places the Beier Loafers in the finals which start this evening.

CUBAN AFFAIRS
TODAY POSSIBLE

Those who believed a solution was in sight found great significance in a conference between Welles and Dr. Grau San Martin; neither would comment. The Ambassador recently conferred with a committee of the student directorate, staunch supporters with enlisted men, of the president.

Added to all these troubles was the problem of 500 army and navy officers barricaded and besieged in the National Hotel for a week. They insist that Grau San Martin step down in favor of Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, who in mid-August followed Gerardo Machado in the presidency.

A CHALLENGE TO LABOR AND INDUSTRY.

In a time like the present the horizon is fairly cluttered up with signs and portents. None of these is much more significant than the sudden epidemic of strikes—an epidemic that has broken out in the last month or so and that is giving the federal doctors one of the busiest seasons they will ever have.

Whatever else these strikes may mean, they at least prove that industry is no longer stagnant. They didn't put in an appearance during those dull months when we were at the bottom of the depression. They're coming now for a number of reasons, but chiefly because things are picking up. Men don't strike when the plant is closed down for lack of orders.

And the strikes present—to a nation which already has a century's supply of problems to settle in a few months—a new problem; one that carries a double-barreled challenge, one barrel for industry and the other for labor.

It is a challenge that must be read in the light of the NRA program. The National Labor Board's ruling, which emphasizes the fact that the law guaranteeing the right of collective bargaining means exactly what it says, is part of the background for these strikes, and it conditions their significance.

First of all, the problem challenges the directors of industry. It is a test of their spirit of fairness, of their willingness to co-operate in the tremendous experiment of the new deal. Labor has gained a great victory in the Industrial Recovery Act; the industrialist who seeks reprisals and wants to "put labor in its place" is piling up trouble, not only for himself but for the entire country.

Secondly, the problem challenges labor itself. It puts upon labor the necessity of developing some broad-gauge statesmen. It calls on labor to take the long view of things, to exercise patience in places where patience comes hard, to get rid of the racketeer and the self-seeker.

Both of these challenges must be met. The present outbreak of strikes could, if unchecked, lead to a catastrophic situation. It can, if the leaders of the contending forces meet the test with intelligence and patriotism, be the forerunner of a new era in American industrial history, an era in which both sides can profit as never before.

PROMOTING CHILD HEALTH.

It is encouraging to read that Labor Secretary Frances Perkins is undertaking to tackle the problem of restoring the health of children who have suffered by the depression.

Figures presented to Miss Perkins indicate that no less than one-fifth of all the children in the country are now showing signs of under-nourishment, lack of proper medical care and inadequate housing.

That statement speaks for itself and needs no comment.

Now Miss Perkins has called a meeting of child health leaders, to convene in Washington on Oct. 6 under the auspices of the Children's Bureau.

To say that this conference will have plenty of work to do is to put it very mildly. It will have to find a way to meet one of the most distressing situations imaginable. The whole country will wish it all kinds of success.

THE GRAF SAILS ON.

Announcement that the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin will appear at the Chicago Century of Progress exposition on Oct. 26 reminds us once more that the Germans seem perfectly at home with these lighter-than-air liners, no matter what difficulties other nations may have with them.

This remarkable airship has, by now, a record of achievement so long that no one can recite it all without a reference book. It has flown around the world, it has crossed various oceans so many times that people have lost count, it has acted as a commercial carrier, and it has never had a really serious accident. Now it is going to re-visit the American middle-west, and no one has the slightest doubt that it will make its trip right on schedule.

All in all, the career of the Graf Zeppelin is a striking example of the things that can be done with a dirigible by people who know the tricks.

So-called practical men believe that they run the world, but they are mistaken. The ideas which animate them always come out of books.—Henry L. Mencken.

Beer and beer gardens are bringing back bands. Dance orchestras, called bands, are all rights for indoor music, but they fall out of doors.—Arthur Pryor, bandmaster.

This is no time for slackers or conscientious objectors.—Louis Johnson, National Commander of the American Legion.

The blue eagle doesn't know anything about intra or inter-state laws.—General Johnson, NRA administrator.

I am a man of peace.—Mahatma Gandhi.

The big poll parrot shouted, "Say, if you want all those cats to play, you'll have to feed them milk, first. Then they'll feel like having fun."

"We cannot get milk, I sadly fear," said Dorothy. "There is no cow near here. And neither are there any stores. The feeding can't be done."

The parrot chuckled. Then it said, "Oh, yes it can. Walk straight ahead, until you reach a big, red tree. Some milk is hidden there."

"Down in the trunk you will find the pan. Now run and get it. If you can. Be sure you don't drink it yourselves. That would not be fair."

"I will get it, lads. Leave it to me," cried Copsy. When he reached the tree he felt down in a little hole and said, "The parrot was right!"

The kittens shortly gathered all around the pan, when it was on the ground, and started lapping up the milk. My, what a funny sight.

They didn't leave a single lick. "I hope, now, that they will do a trick," said Dorothy. Then the mother cat stood on her two hind paws.

"My goodness, she can understand what you are saying. Gee, that's grand," cried Dorothy. "Come on, Tinkles, give this fine cat some applause."

The parrot then snapped, "Wait a bit. You haven't seen the half of it. Just watch the little kittens do this trick, too."

"It's something they have learned recently and they are slow as they can be. However, they will shortly do as circus ponies do."

The kittens fled in, one by one, behind each other. My, what fun! Then, up their paws went on each other, till they formed a line.

"Well, now is the time to clap real loud," the parrot told the Tinkles. And so that's what the Tinkles did, as Goldy cried, "That's fine!"

(The Tinkles have more fun in Pet Land in the next story.)

during the early part of the program. The judges for the two days were Joe Gund and W. E. Watkins of Freeport and B. F. Swingley of Polo.

A feature of the Sunday afternoon program was the crowning of the equestrienne queen, Mrs. Charles Dickey of this city. She was selected by a vote of those attending the Saturday afternoon performance, and was the recipient of a beautiful silver loving cup donated by William E. Tien, well known local jeweler, and a beautiful bouquet of roses, a gift of the Dixon Saddle Club, Dr. Grover C. Moss, president of the club, made the presentation and Mrs. Dickey was attended by Mrs. George Deier and Miss Vivian Stiles, both popular horsewomen.

On both days the final part of the program was featured by a polo, in which outlaw horses were ridden by western riders, and there were exhibitions of fancy roping and Australian whip cracking. The riders gave a very fine exhibition of western riding.

Sunday's Results

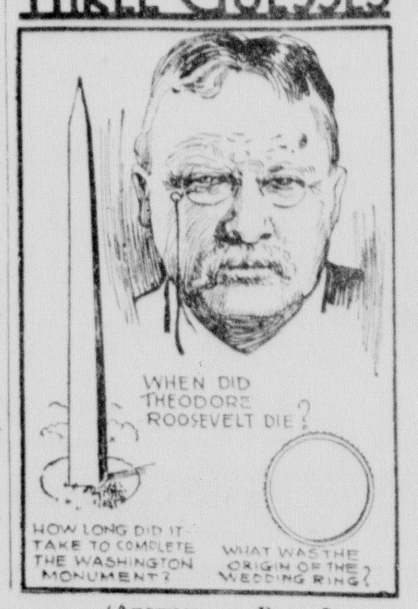

The result of the events Sunday afternoon were as follows:

Best saddle pony and rider—White Star, ridden by Miss Joan Ralston and belonging to the Reynoldswood farms, first; Esquina, ridden by Miss Lucille Ralston and belonging to the Reynoldswood farms, second; Tony, owned and ridden by Harry Cover, Dixon, third; Perry Winkle ridden by Joe Van Metre and belonging to the Brundage farms, fourth; Betsy, owned and ridden by Sarah Hasselberg, Dixon, fifth.

On the Midway at A Century of Progress you may have noticed a sign in front of one of the concessions which has the letter N reversed. I think the sign reads, "Laff In The Dark." Reversing the letters S and N is a too common mistake.

For years (well, not so many) I have seen a famous drawing of the Boston Massacre. Almost every American history text-book has it. But it was not until a short time ago that I noticed the name of the artist. He was none other than Paul Revere.

ILLINOIS MILK STRIKE

Violence Flares in

With battles between pickets seeking to prevent the marketing of milk at present prices and farmers determined to sell their product, violence has marked a milk strike in the Chicago area. This picture, taken at a Harvard, Ill., dairy plant, shows Albert Peil, a farmer, on his truck after strikers had poured an odorous disinfectant over his cans of milk while he was attempting to unload them. Two men were wounded in the fighting.

of unselfishness is needed for a return to prosperity.

Perhaps you read Homer's "The Odyssey" a long time ago. If you did, you will find a new thrill in reading it again.

The Rhine, the Hudson, and the Rock, The Rhine with its structural remains of by-gone days; the Hudson with its legendary lore; and the Rock with its historical significance, looking back to the winning of the west. And all three have picturesque grandeur.

It would be interesting to look intimately into the lives of the great personalities of history. It is safe to assume that behind each we would find a person, little known to the world at large, who had much to do with raising the great to the heights.

For example, many have been given recognition for the parts they played during the period of the American Revolution. Of these, a few are outstanding: Washington, Jefferson, Hamilton, and others. But the fact that Thomas Paine added more to stirring up the revolution than any other man and gave more to constructive thought during that historic time is little known.

Lincoln was once quoted as saying, in effect, "All that I am and all that I hope to be I owe to my mother." There are few who doubt that his mother's early influence had a tremendous effect on this great American.

And, in more recent years, we have the case of Woodrow Wilson and his friend Colonel House. The lesser man was always ready when his advice was needed by the World War president. There are many other similar cases, but the relationship between Mr. Roosevelt and Louis Howe presents one of great current interest.

Mr. Howe, who signs his name Louis McH. Howe, is content to be in the background, to the extent that his position as secretary to the president will allow him to be. Living at the Roosevelt home, he has been in the background for years, watching his younger friend climb to the peak of American leadership.

Much campaign strategy has been accredited to Louis Howe. It is said that for several years, while Mr. Roosevelt was on his way up, Howe corresponded with political leaders the country over to keep Mr. Roosevelt's name constantly before them. It is doubtless true that while Roosevelt was loaded down with public duties, it was Howe who made many plans for his friend's methods of political attacks.

Mr. Howe was once in newspaper work. He prefers "Mr. Howe" to "Colonel Howe". He shuns publicity for himself, and has dedicated himself to his great friend, Franklin Roosevelt.

It is not an unusual thing, this union between Roosevelt and Howe. Perhaps it adds to Mr. Roosevelt's list of credits to have at his disposal the services of a man who is capable of planning inevitable battles on political fronts. Having been relieved of this burden, he is able to devote a proportionate amount of additional effort to the affairs of state.

WHERE'S YOUR CODE?

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton
The new NRA law requires every business, every trade, to file a code setting forth hours of work, rate of wages and the rest. No business is to be run haphazard regardless of others. The old cut-throat chaos is at an end for good and all.

So far so good; it is a revolution long overdue. If business is to be business and not banditry, it must be run by rule. If it will not make a rule of reason and live by it, then it must be made to do so. Such is the new style now in vogue, and a very good style it is, too.

But, alas, there is a rub. Already we have at least two codes in almost every trade, one for profession, the other for practice. We live now by one, now by the other as it suits us, serving our own selfishness and greed as the others do.

Or, what is worse, we have a group code and an individual code, as unlike as night and day. As a firm, as a nation, as a church, even, we do what no decent individual would stoop to do. Or we indulge in tall talk about high ideals in public, and act by a secret code which would disgrace a savage. What code, if any, are we going to live up to?

Ages ago Solon said that the law is a net woven to catch the little fish and let the big ones go. It is still true as facts too often show. No wonder men turn cynics and say that it is all a racket; that the old integrity, if it ever existed, is out of date—so why not each claim up while he can? Here is the spirit most to be feared.

If only this deadly duality could be cured by law! But it cannot. As far back as Moses and further, man has had a high moral code, but he does not keep it. In words he may be moral but in acts he is as slippery as an eel, evading his

"I USE HYDRAULIC BRAKES 600 TIMES A DAY!"

AN INTERVIEW WITH JOSEPH PREHER, DIV. CIRCULATION MGR., LOUISVILLE (KY.) HERALD-POST

"No more of the old kind for me . . . after owning a Plymouth"

NINETY-FIVE news-stands wait eagerly for Joe Preher to come rushing around every time a new edition hits the street. He's got to make time . . . keep a split-second schedule . . . slam on brakes 600 times a day.

Working his brakes so hard on his former car cost him plenty for adjustments and re-lining. But with Plymouth's hydraulic brakes, it's a far different story. They're always equalized. And brake linings last longer!

Brakes are not the only thing that must stand up on Joe Preher's cars. For he puts 50,000 miles a year on the speedometer.

His car is still "tight as a drum" at 12,000 miles. Floating Power engine mountings helped do that. It stands to reason, too, you'll avoid rattles with a welded safety-steel body that has no joints to loosen.

Look at the things that make a car stand up when you look at "all three" low-priced cars—and we think you'll pick a Plymouth.

PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA TO PLAY CONCERT

Local Organization Now Rehearsing Program For Sept. 27th.

The Dixon Philharmonic Orchestra, which has been practicing and rehearsing diligently all summer, will present another of its fine concerts at the Masonic Temple Wednesday evening, Sept. 27, at 8 o'clock and lovers of orchestral music anticipate an evening of real enjoyment.

An excellent program has been planned and the organization will hold its final rehearsal on the numbers selected Wednesday evening.

The program starts with an overture of Rossini, then comes "Liebestraum" of Liszt, which is very popular and in which the bassoon, flutes, and clarinets will show themselves up in some extensive cadenzas and the cellos and violas will carry the melody from the beginning. It is a majestic number written for grand orchestra. After that comes a selection from "Madame Butterfly" which will give the audience what technique the orchestra is in possession of. After the intermission comes a beautiful waltz of Strauss, "Wiener Blut," and Mrs. Lester Wilhelm will sing, with orchestra accompaniment, three songs: one of Arthur Penn and two of Victor Herbert. Three violin solos will follow, played by F. Lundström. Mrs. Wilhelm will then sing with piano accompaniment, "My Heart as Thy Sweet Voice" of Saint-Saens. Then follows the opera selection "Cavalleria Rusticana" of Mascagni and last, the "Wedding March" of Mendelssohn.

START TAKING EVIDENCE TODAY IN LUEK TRIAL

Edwardsville Jurors Kept In The Court House Week End

Edwardsville, Ill., Sept. 18—(AP)—Five men and a woman faced a jury here today in their trial on charges of kidnapping August Luek, aged Alton packer.

Actual proceedings began a week ago today, but the cautious picking of the jury panel by both the state and defense consumed five days last week and court was recessed over Saturday. The jury was kept at the court house over the week-end.

Aided by the federal government which, through the Department of Justice, is taking active interest in kidnapping trials, State Attorney L. M. Geers had painstakingly worked out every detail of the prosecution.

Geers insisted that none of the jurors picked have any prejudice against capital punishment for convicted kidnappers. The seven defense attorneys had refused to say what their defense would be for the six defendants who are Mr. and Mrs. Lillian Choate, Randol Norvell, Percy M. Fitzgerald, Mike Musiala and Chris Nicola Gitchco. Luek, 77 years old, and in poor health, was rudely seized by three persons on the night of July 10 as he was sitting by the radio in his Alton home. He was held for nearly a week in a damp cellar and was released when ransom negotiations fell through. Police said no ransom was paid.

IDAHO AND NEW MEXICO TO VOTE ON REPEAL MOVE

Both Poll Tomorrow: Only States Voting This Week

(By The Associated Press.)

Idaho and New Mexico get their turn tomorrow to stand up and name their choice between prohibition and repeal.

With these two elections—the only ones to be held this week—the number of states which have voted on the proposal to repeal the 18th Amendment will reach 31.

The 29 which have balloted thus far have all favored repeal. Thirty six are necessary before repeal becomes an accomplished fact.

Repealists predicted that more than the necessary number will have voted against national prohibition by Nov. 7. Prohibitionists, disputing the ground, continued to oppose the "anti" sweep.

Tractor Plow Is Winner Over Horse

Wheatland, Ill., Sept. 18—(AP)—The superiority of a gasoline engine over horse power was demonstrated here again in the Wheatland plowing contest and as a result Carl Shoger held the championship for the third successive year.

He piloted a modern two-bottom tractor, while his closest opponent, Homer Lapp, was behind three horses.

One of the contributing factors to Lapp's defeat Saturday was the skittishness of his beasts: 10 airplanes circling overhead. Out of a possible 100 his score was rated by the judges as 71, while Shoger got an 82.

Grand Lodge Odd Fellows Convened

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 18—(AP)—Lodge brothers of the Odd Fellows assembled today for their biggest ceremonies and meetings. Delegates from most of the states and Canadian provinces helped open the four national conventions of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and affiliated organizations.

The legislative halls at the Illinois State House were thrown open for meetings of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Odd Fellows and for the Patriarchs Militant. Meetings also were held by the Association of Rebekah Assemblies and the Auxiliary of the Patriarchs Militant. Preliminaries completed for the several hundred early arrivals, the Grand Lodge convention was formally opened by a welcome from Attorney General Otto Kerner. Receptions were held for Grand Sire W. F. Jackson of Fort Scott, Kas., and other officials of the Grand Lodge; Mrs. Edythe Florence Kelly of Roseburg, Ore., president of the Patriarchs Militant, and other leaders.

WALTON NEWS

Walton — The funeral of Mary Cahill was very largely attended here on Friday morning. Everyone reported having had a good time Thursday night and they are all looking forward to the celebration to be held here a week from Sunday. There is going to be a chicken supper and dancing in the evening.

Lucille Healey is home after visiting her sister in Amboy. Many of the farmers of this vicinity welcomed the rain this week. Edward Murphy is leaving Friday for Urbana where he will attend the University of Illinois again.

Jimmie Rogers of DeKalb was a guest at the Michael Blackburn home last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Peter McCoy were callers Saturday. Loyola Fitzpatrick is planning on attending business college in Sterling this fall.

SPORTS DIXON HIGH IS FACING SEASON WITH LIGHT MEN

First Grid Game For the Local Team Is Set
For Saturday

Coach C. B. Lindell is putting his 1933 high school football squad through the customary daily practice at the athletic field and closely observing the actions of the new athletes who have reported for practice.

About the customary number of applicants have answered the first call and are going through the opening fundamentals of the game. Friday afternoon the Polo high school squad came to Dixon and engaged in scrimmage at the north side field which proved valuable to both teams.

The purple and white take the field for the first conflict next Saturday afternoon when Rock Falls comes to Dixon to officially open the season. From all reports, Coach Lindell will be obliged to begin the building of a new team this fall with considerable light material with which to work. The "strong men" of the team of the past three seasons have finished their work in school and graduated last spring, thus thinning the ranks of the experienced players to a minimum. It is now necessary to construct practically an entire new team and with only weight candidates available. The Dixon high school is passing through the same stage as some of its fellow conference members of last season, who presented new and inexperienced lineups on the gridiron.

While the squad is composed almost entirely of new material, the candidates are showing an anxiety to function in winning style and from the side lines, it would appear that Dixon may have a light but fast team in the field this fall. There are about 75 candidates out for practice and from this group Coach Lindell and his assistants will select a representative eleven to take the field next Saturday afternoon in the opening of the season against Rock Falls.

There has been much speculation as to how the two fighters would stand the delay, but apparently they suffered no ill effects. Both were in tip top condition when they wound up training yesterday with light workouts. The ex-gob will crawl through the ropes weighing about 200 pounds while the ex-fighter will weigh around 203. Public opinion regarding the winner hasn't changed with the Boston boxer still a 9 to 5 favorite to win. It will be Sharkey's ability and experience against the wild dynamite-punching punch with which the Kingfish has won so many fights. When he passed through the Windy City the other day, Primo Carnera, heavyweight champion, who he dethroned Sharkey, picked the ex-gob to beat Levinsky.

Promoter Wolff expects the three day delay to be a big aid to the game. He estimates an attendance of 25,000 with the receipts hitting the $50,000 mark. Of this, Sharkey has been guaranteed $25,000. After expenses have been deducted and Sharkey's guarantee taken out, the king will get 20 per cent.

Chicago, Sept. 18—(AP)—Jack Sharkey, out to win the heavyweight championship of the world again, and King Levinsky, who discovered more profit in pushing leather than fish, will toss punches at each other tonight at Comiskey Park after a three day delay.

SENATORS AND GIANTS READY TO TAKE FLAGS

They Can Clinch Pennants In Their Respective Leagues

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Giants and Washington Senators stood at the threshold of baseball's throne room today, ready to step over at a moment's notice and accept the crowns as 1933 champions of the two major leagues.

Each had disposed of all but one rival and the schedule today made it possible for both to clinch the flags.

Of the two, the Giants were a trifle closer to a certainty. By defeating the St. Louis Cardinals 4 to 3 yesterday on a combination of Mel Ott's 22nd home run of the season and Adolfo Luque's fine relief pitching, they eliminated the Chicago Cubs, recently considered as their most dangerous rivals. Two more decisions were needed to drop race and the Buccaneers were the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the scheduled for a doubleheader against the Phillies today while the Giants played their second game at St. Louis.

Near Certainty
Assuming a Giant victory and an even break for the Pirates, Pittsburgh could win all the nine games it would have left and the Giants could drop their last ten and still the clubs would finish with this standing.

W. L. Pct.
New York 89 53 .584
Pittsburgh 90 64 .584
The Senators, 91 53 games ahead of the New York Yankees and with ten games to go against 13 for their rivals, needed three decisions to clinch the American League pennant. An all three were on the program today with Washington playing the St. Louis Browns and the Yanks entertaining the Chicago White Sox in a doubleheader. Given a double defeat today and a Washington triumph, the closest the Yanks could come would be this:

W. L. Pct.
Washington 95 56 .532
New York 94 55 .531
The Senators helped their cause along yesterday by coming from behind in the ninth inning to score two runs on Buddy Myer's single with the bases full and two out, and defeating the Detroit Tigers 4 to 3.

The Yanks cut the Washington margin a trifle by taking two games from the Cleveland Indians 3 to 2, and 6 to 1.

Gomez Was Hot
Russ Van Atta and Lefty Gomez pitched fine ball for the Yanks, the latter turning in a three-hit, 13-strikeout masterpiece in the second game. Babe Ruth whacked a homer in each contest to bring his season's total to 30. Monte Pearson pitched three-hit ball for the Indians in the opener, but lost out through a walk and an error in the eighth.

Chicago's Cubs also won a doubleheader, beating Brooklyn twice by 6-5 scores, but the one Giant victory automatically eliminated them from the pennant race. Charley Root managed to outlast three Dodger hurlers in the opener and relief flinger Pat Malone won the second game by driving in Bill Campbell with the go-ahead run.

The Cincinnati Reds threatened to climb out of the National League cellar as they took two games from the Boston Braves, 5-2 and 6-0, to land only a point behind the idle Phillies. Larry Benton pitched six-hit ball in the opener and Paul Derringer followed with a four-hit shutout to break a string of eight straight defeats.

The closing doubleheader between the Chicago White Sox and Boston Red Sox was rained out while the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh clubs in the National League and St. Louis and Philadelphia in the American had open dates.

If Purdue is to live up to pre-season expectations by winning, or at least tying the defending champions, Michigan, for the Big Ten crown, then Kizer has a whole of a job ahead of him. That's why the Boilemaker coach, who is starting his fourth year as Purdue's gridiron chief, isn't talking titles now.

His task is to find almost an entire new forward wall. On this hinges his success. Last year Kizer had one of the best lines in the conference. It contained such players as Paul Moss, All-American end; John Oehler, center, and Howard Lelsing, guard. Only Captain Dutch Fehring and Eddie Ungers, tackles, remain of the powerful line that helped the Boilemakers go through last year without defeat.

The fact that he has plenty of material although inexperienced, eases the task somewhat.

INFLATIONISTS IN CONGRESS TO PRESENT DEMAND

In Meantime RFC Advances Big Sums On Farm Paper

Washington Sept. 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt put another $150,000,000 of federal pressure behind the credit expansion program today as southern congressional spokesmen rallied for straight-out currency inflation.

The new federal funds were made available to the Federal Land Banks by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to assist in the immediate refinancing of farm mortgages held by banks whose operations have been restricted by heavy portfolios of such paper.

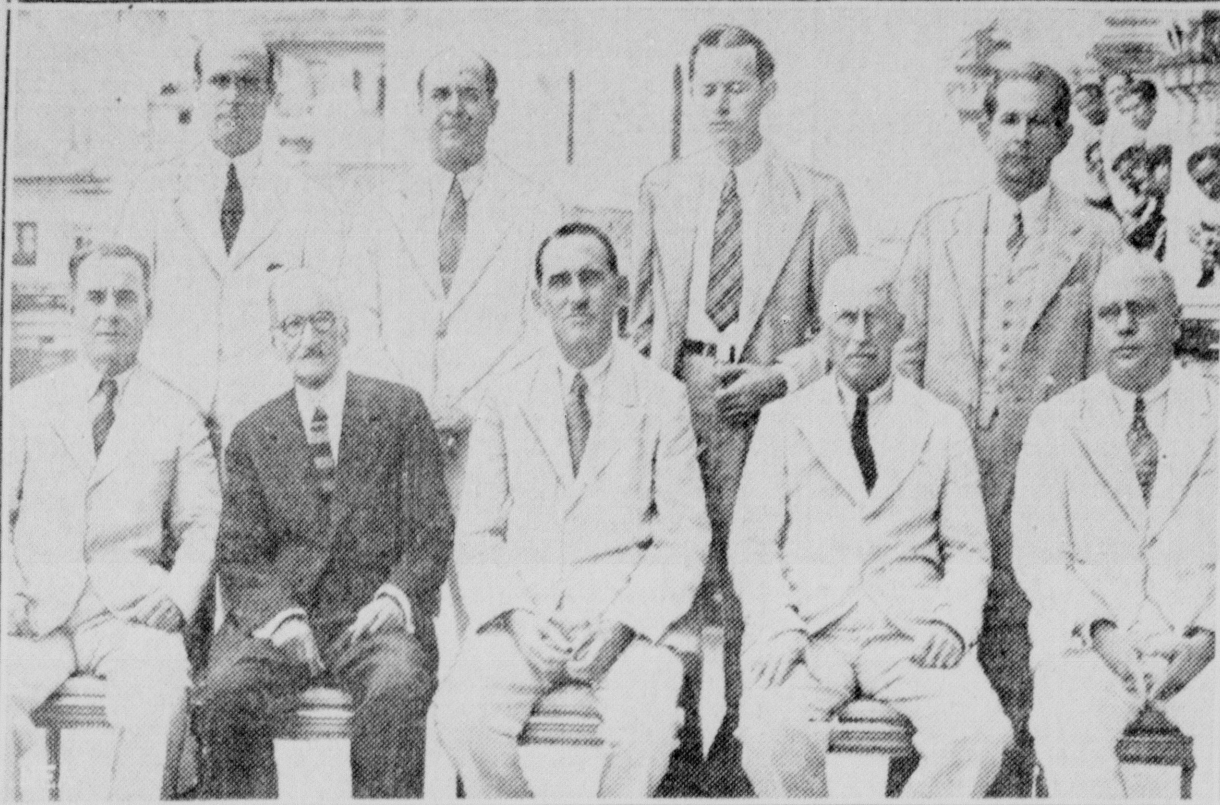

Jesse H. Jones, chairman, announced the plan as the drive for currency inflation, picked up its strongest force since Congress empowered Roosevelt to issue new currency or devalue the dollar. The gathering here of cotton men and southern political leaders again made the inflation issue one of Roosevelt's major problems.

Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) who has telegraphed members of Congress asking their views on inflation, said the meeting will choose a committee to convey its inflation views to the President. Every cotton state was expected to be represented.

Thomas Claims Aid
Thomas said Representative Byrns of Tennessee, the House Democratic leader, was supporting the inflation move along with 52 other members of the Senate and House.

Roosevelt, to whom inflation requests have been carried by a number of party leaders in recent days, was silent about any plans he might have on the subject. From every indication, the President was maintaining his announced intention of moulding his monetary policies to meet conditions as they arise.

Just now he is concerned particularly about boosting prices received by the farmer. The new RFC plan to improve the position of banks holding farm mortgages was considered a new step in this direction.

Daily Health Talk

FOODS AND INSECTICIDES

Man and insects have long disputed for the mastery of the world and it is only in recent years that the issue of this contest promises to be in favor of mankind. This victory, however, is not being won without a price. The price is poison which, while destroying the insects, also threatens man.

Every farmer and every grower of green things must fight a vigilant battle against insects. Many arsenic and lead-containing mixtures and compounds are included among their weapons against the insect pest.

In 1929 the farmers of the United States used 58,000,000 pounds of arsenic and lead-containing insecticides. Most of these they used to spray fruit and vegetable plants. This practice of spraying fruits and vegetables with lead and arsenic-containing compounds represents a hazard to the ultimate consumer, for some of the poison is bound to remain attached to the ripe product when it is marketed.

In the case of fruits, these poisonous residues may be removed by thorough washing, though at times strong agents, such as hydrochloric acid, must be employed to free the fruit from all traces of insecticide.

In the case of vegetable particularly such as asparagus and cabbage, such treatment is extremely difficult, if not impossible.

The government has devised regulations which tend to minimize the danger due to the residue of poisonous sprays. However, the control of this problem is not very simple.

While there is no warrant for fearing acute poisoning from the eating of apples, oranges, cabbage, lettuce or celery or any of the other fruits and vegetables commonly sprayed with insecticides, one should bear in mind that there is a hazard.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—When the Democrats recaptured control of the Senate and organized during the special session of the Seventy-third Congress, New York state was not in line for choice committee assignments.

Texas, for example, after the 1930 Congressional elections had brought Democratic control of the House, inherited the speakership and chairmanships of half a dozen or more major committee assignments.

And in the Senate reorganization after the 1932 elections, Texas came in for its share of Senate plums. Sheppard, the senior Senator, stepped into the shoes of Reed of Pennsylvania as chairman of the important committee on military affairs. And Connally fell heir to the committee on public buildings and grounds.

New York, however, had to be content with Senator Wagner taking over the chairmanship of the committee on patent and Senator Copeland the committee on rules.

A MATTER OF RANK
Seniority in the Senate counts for everything. Senator Copeland ranks 15 among the Senators in point of service and Senator Wagner 23.

The committee on patents in the Senate rarely is heard from. The committee on rules is in much the same situation, because the Senate either makes or breaks its rules on the floor.

But Senator Copeland is making his committee felt on Capitol Hill. One of the two physicians in the Senate (Hatfield of West Virginia is the other) he has found his committee assignment much to his liking.

His major committee duties are to see that Senators' office space and their environment on "the Hill" are as congenial as possible. The Senate office building and the Senate wing of the Capitol itself are under his jurisdiction.

He gets the complaints varying from poor elevator service to termite infestations which ever so often invade Senators' libraries.

RESTAURANT-MINDED
But it's not by these services particularly that Senator Copeland is making his reputation as chairman of the rules committee.

The Senate restaurant has be-

Agitators contended the government was lending itself to "Wall Street machinations" and marchers demanded that U. S. Marines leave Cuban waters.

come his special hobby.

There's always been a bit of jealousy between the House and Senate restaurant in the Capitol. Lately, the House restaurant has been a bit more popular than the one in the Senate wing.

The Senator has set himself to the task of remedying this. Under his orders, the kitchens have been moved up from the basements, the menu will be made up in the future with an eye to how many calories a Senator needs to function efficiently after lunch.

For, from all indications, it's going to be a hard session come next January. And the good doctor is a Democrat.

"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 17.

The Golden Text was, "In God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me" (Psalms 56:4).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Stand fast therefore in the liberty where with Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage" (Galatians 5:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When we realize that Life is Spirit, never in nor of matter, this understanding will expand into self-completeness, finding all in God, good, and needing no other consciousness" (P. 264).

Brief Summary of Last Night's News

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS ILLINOIS:

CHICAGO—After a four-day visit at the World's Fair, Postmaster General James A. Farley and his wife and three children returned to their New York home. They were the dinner guests Saturday night of Mayor and Mrs. Edward J. Kelly, but the Postmaster General said he avoided all political conferences while in the city.

CHICAGO—Samuel Incandella, 22, described by police as a minor hoodlum was "taken for a walk" instead of the proverbial gangland "ride", and killed. A woman who witnessed the slaying said Incandella was strolling along with another man who had his hand on his shoulder. Suddenly, as they were under a railroad viaduct, the other person fired three shots. Incandella slumped to the sidewalk and his companion escaped in an automobile.

PLAN FIGHT TO SAVE STANFORD MAN FROM DEATH

A Jury Found David Lamson Guilty Of His Wife's Murder

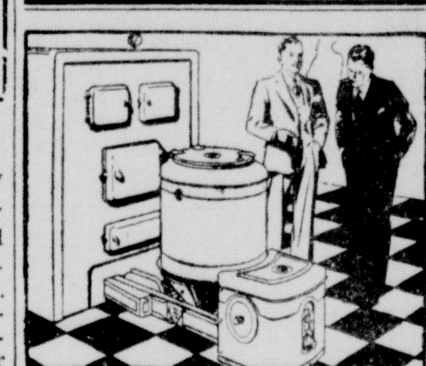

San Jose, Calif., Sept. 18.—(AP)—Defense attorneys have announced they will use every possible means to save David A. Lamson from the gallows.

The defenders of the 31-year-old Stanford University press executive said the legal warfare would be far more intense than that waged during the last month at the trial in which Lamson was convicted by a jury of slaying his pretty wife, Allene Thorpe Lamson.

Edwin M. Rea and Maurice Rankin will begin their battle for Lamson's life by asking a new trial when he appears in court tomorrow to hear himself condemned to hang, the only sentence possible under the unflinching verdict Saturday night of the jury of seven men and five women.

While Lamson continued his fight, his 2½-year-old daughter, Allene Genevieve, was to be the subject of a court battle for her custody. Frank C. Thorpe of Lamson, Mo., brother of Mrs. Lamson, said he would institute such a suit, possibly today.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES

"I WATCH MY NERVES as carefully as I do my plane," Colonel Turner says. "I smoke Camels for the sake of healthy nerves, and I enjoy them more because of their mildness and better taste. To me Camels are a much finer cigarette and I never have to give a thought to jangled nerves."

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

COLONEL ROSCOE TURNER, in discussing healthy nerves and cigarettes, says:

"Breaking air records is an exciting business—and a nerve-racking one! I know because I have gone out after a whole flock of records—and managed to pick off quite a few. Like most pilots I smoke a lot—in fact, I enjoy smoking any time. But I watch my nerves as carefully as I do my plane. I smoke Camels for the sake of healthy nerves, and I enjoy them more because of their mildness and better taste. To me Camels are a much finer cigarette, and being a faithful Camels smoker, I never have to give a thought to jangled nerves."

Are you nervous? Irritable? Try Camels and get a fresh slant on your smoking. Being a milder cigarette, Camels are better for steady smoking. You will find that Camels never get on your nerves...never tire your taste.
